

Capital preservation, income and impact

Managed by David Katimbo-Mugwanya
and Michael Sheehan

Fixed Income is playing an increasingly important role for investors seeking to link financial goals with the desire to address pressing societal needs and environmental concerns. While equities have traditionally dominated the options available for responsible investors, fixed income now provides innovative sustainable investment products with varying risk profiles, degrees of impact and competitive rates of return.

At EdenTree, our Fixed Income fund range reflects our firm-wide responsible and sustainable investment principles, providing investors with a selection of funds with which to diversify their investment portfolios according to financial and ESG goals.

Our Fixed Income range is comprised of three core products:

- Responsible & Sustainable Short-Dated Bond Fund
- Responsible & Sustainable Sterling Bond Fund
- Global Impact Bond Fund

Managed by a specialist investment team led by David Katimbo-Mugwanya, Head of Fixed Income, each fund offers investors access to the following characteristics (unless otherwise stated):

- Exclusions through negative and positive screening to ensure absence of harm and encourage sustainable products and services
- Engagement on core material and thematic ESG issues
- Focus on the responsibility credentials of the issuer, as well as the sustainability credentials of the bond.
- For Global Impact Bond, an understanding of “use of proceeds” and the bond’s potential for real-world positive impacts

Fund page

EdenTree’s Fixed Income fund seeks to produce attractive risk adjusted returns with low volatility and limited drawdowns, as well as competitive rates of income throughout the economic cycle. The level of interest rate, and therefore economic, exposure is unique to each fund as is the level of income.

The ESG characteristics also differ across the fund range. The three funds – Short-Date Bond, Sterling Bond and Global Impact Bond – follow the Responsible & Sustainable Investment framework. In addition, Global Impact Bond takes a “use of proceeds” thematic approach, seeking to deliver competitive financial returns along with impact.

Process

The team follows a similar investment approach across the product range, according to the specific objective of each fund. This approach has four key components, which are not mutually exclusive but tend to work in a cycle: the review of holdings can often lead to new ideas, for example.

Investment analysis involves a blend of bottom up and top down factors to determine the quality of the issuer, the risk and reward characteristics of where to invest on the capital structure and appropriate portfolio fit and duration for the prevailing market and economic backdrop.

The Investment team, in conjunction with EdenTree’s dedicated Responsible Investment Analysts, pay particular attention to the responsible and sustainable credentials of each issuer and, where possible, they look to incorporate the four sustainable themes into the funds.

For Global Impact Bond, these themes are integral to its dual objectives of competitive financial returns and impact, with a minimum threshold of 80% allocated to impact investments. This allocation can include green, social, sustainable and non-labelled impact bonds.
